

William Pesek Jr.
Asia-Pacific columnist
Bloomberg News

William Pesek Jr. is Asia-Pacific columnist for Bloomberg News, based in Tokyo, providing opinions and commentary on economics, business, markets and politics throughout the region. His columns routinely appear in the International Herald Tribune, The Australian, The Straits Times, The Japan Times and many other publications around Asia and the globe.

Mr. Pesek worked previously as a columnist for Barron's, the Dow Jones weekly magazine, The Wall Street Journal, the American Banker newspaper, writing about global economics, politics and markets. Much of his time was spent following Alan Greenspan as well as U.S. Treasury, International Monetary Fund and World Bank officials around the globe. He has a Bachelor's degree in business journalism from Bernard M. Baruch College, City University of New York.