Commemorative Banknote on the Auspicious Occasion of the Sixtieth Anniversary Celebrations of His Majesty's Accession to the Throne

To commemorate the auspicious occasion of the Sixtieth Anniversary Celebrations of His Majesty's Accession to the Throne on 9 June B.E. 2549 (2006), with His Majesty's righteousness, perseverance and commitment towards his people's well-being, the Bank of Thailand takes great pleasure in issuing the 60-baht commemorative note as a legal tender to promulgate His Majesty's reputation and great merits.

The main element on the front of the banknote is the portrait of His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej, seated on the Royal Throne beneath the Nine-Tiered Great White Umbrella of State in Amarin Winitchai Throne Hall. Other elements are the hologram patch incorporated with His Majesty the King's portrait, the Royal Ceremonial Emblem in Commemoration of the Sixtieth Anniversary Celebrations of His Majesty's Accession to the Throne, the Royal Garuda Emblem, and the Arabic numerals "60" printed with colour-shift optically variable intaglio ink (OVI) in green which turns into magenta when viewed at a small angle.

Each banknote is printed with Thai number and alphabetical code prefix "๕๙", and the Arabic number and Roman alphabetical code prefix "9K" to represent His Majesty as King Rama IX, followed by Thai or Arabic serial numbers 0000001-9999999

The main element on the back of the banknote is the portrait of His Majesty King Bhumibol Adulyadej. Other elements include the pictures of His Majesty the King with his loyal subjects, Klong Tha Dan Dam in Nakhon Nayok Province (The Royal Initiative Project), and rice field and farmers with the "ears of rice" design, which represents His Majesty's royal activities and commitment in water resource and Thai rice production developments.
